

JUST GOSSIP ABOUT PEOPLE

General Exodus for July Starts Today—Many and Varied Things Are Discussed by Nancy Wynne

NOW that the June brides have finished changing their names, Philadelphia people and those who were at one time Philadelphians are beginning to change their addresses for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Sturgis Hubbard are leaving their attractive home on Semboe avenue, Chestnut Hill, for Keokuk, Mo., after a summer at Martha's Vineyard, they will live in Boston for the coming winter.

The John Kearsley Mitchells, 3d, have taken a house at Islesboro, for the summer, and will go there very soon.

Edward Cassard spent the weekend, and is to stay on over the Fourth, at Cape May, so there will be good dancing down there these days if nothing else.

The James M. Reeds are going down there, too, to stay with the Evans Roberts, who, as I told you, have a cottage for the summer.

The Clifford Wilsons, an usual, are at their cottage in Cape May, and will entertain a large house party over the Fourth in honor of their two attractive daughters.

Already luncheons and entertainments have started down there, and the Horace Eugene Smiths gave a luncheon, followed by cards, on Thursday.

The Brian Taylors and the Billy Rhoads have been staying with the Fred Stovells. The Rhoads have not taken a cottage this year, and every one is very sorry, for they are great fun and always make things go.

There was a frightful excitement on the quiet little beach one day last week, when a certain lady (I appeared in pink silk garments, which were topped with a bright green bathing suit, and not very much of that. However, they got over it. Even Cape May is used to these things these days.

I hear that Billy Davis is in the Pennsylvania Hospital for an operation, but is getting along very well and his family, the Charles Davises, hope soon to have him with them in Cape May.

CHILDREN are cheerful little souls, are they not? One of the younger married men we all know was bidding his small daughter of seven good-bye recently before leaving to sail for France. He said to her: "Are you not sorry I am going, darling? You know, you may never see father again. I may be killed."

"Oh! daddy, yes, I would; I'd see you at the funeral," replied his hopeful daughter.

I REE that Mrs. Bob Jenks is planning to sail for France with the Episcopal Hospital unit, which is about ready to mobilize. Quite a bunch of people one knows are going with this base hospital.

Mrs. Jenks's husband died a few months ago, and she has very wisely decided to help others in their sufferings, and in this way she will surely be aided in picking up the broken threads of her lonely life since his death.

There is no idea as yet that the hospital unit will leave very soon, for the University has not yet been called, and if I am not mistaken it was accepted before the Episcopal.

THEODORE PAUL is up at Youngstown, N. Y., in the training camp, and Mrs. Paul, who was Adeline Pepper, and her sister Eleanor went up over the weekend to see him. Their brother, George Wharton Pepper, Jr., is at Fort Monro, Va., and his young wife, who was Marion Myers, has gone there to see him.

Mrs. Pepper, Jr., has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hayward Myers, of St. Davids, since Mr. Pepper left. Her infant son, George Wharton Pepper, 3d, was also a guest of his grandparents. May the little man live to honor the name he bears as well as his grandfather has, for he is certainly one of the foremost men and lawyers of our time.

BUY a farm these days, girls, buy a farm or take one on a mortgage or even rent one! You will have no end of good times, and if you start in with about 500 chickens, three or four pigs, a cow, a Ford and a college boy you will succeed. There is no question about it. I know of a girl who has taken a farm on the Main Line lately, and believe me, she is having one fine time setting maids and farm hands. However, she told me recently she had made $1.67 for some cherries and expected to make it pay eventually. I bet she will.

The great work of the week seems to be the bath of the small pigs, for this is no old-time farm, let me tell you, and the pigs are expected to have as white skin and pink cheeks as their young owner.

Like all great people, the pigs' baths in on Saturday night, and all hands turn in and bring out the washbuds, into which the three Miss Pigs are dumped. This gives Sunday for the tubs to survive before being used for the family wash.

Well, the Misses Pig are covered with water, and then scrubbed with soap and nail brushes. And their fond mistress assures me "Oh! pigs are not naturally good of dirt. Oh! no, that is a fallacy, pure and simple. They love to be clean and fairly grunt all the time they are being washed and scrubbed." Indeed,

As every one who ever even contemplated matrimony seems to have carried out their desire, the wedding season is over, and the weddings take up most of the day's news.

A quiet wedding of interest Saturday night was that of Miss Margaret Newbold Castle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James M. Castle, 218 North Thirty-fourth street, and Mr. Charles H. Castle, of the New Jerusalem, Twenty-second and Chestnut streets.

The wedding of Miss Caroline Shoemaker, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Shoemaker, and Mr. C. Jackson Waters, of Baltimore, took place on Saturday at 4 o'clock at the home of the bride, 218 North Thirty-fourth street. Miss Priscilla Stockwell, of Merion, and the best man was Mr. Lawrence Sharples, of West Chester.

The marriage of Miss Laura Elizabeth Wittman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Wendell Wittman, of 28 North Fifthth street, and Mr. Charles Bradford Hubert, of Wilmington, Del., took place on Saturday at 4 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, The Rev. H. Hunter Crawford, pastor of the Episcopal Methodist Episcopal Church, performed the ceremony. The bride was attended by her two sisters, Miss F. Benetta Wittman and Miss Edith Wendell Wittman.

The marriage of Miss Marie Brown, daughter of Mrs. Jane M. Brown, of 1921 Master street, and Mr. Henry J. Trainor, of 1504 North Eighteenth street, which was solemnized at a nuptial mass in the Church of the Gesu, on Saturday morning, at 9 o'clock. The bride's brother, the Rev. M. A. Brown, officiated and was assisted by the Rev. John J. Brown, S. J., also a brother of the bride. Attending the bride was Mrs. John J. Tomlinson, matron of honor. Mr. Joseph A. Trainor was best man.

The wedding of Miss Elizabeth Goodnow Longshore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Longshore, of Woodbourne, Bucks County, Pa., and Mr. William A. O'Donnell, of Philadelphia, took place last Thursday afternoon. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Michael, former pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church, at her country home, and the Rev. Mr. Graves, of Langhorne.

The wedding of Miss Gertrude Donohue, a popular northeastern part of the city, and Mr. John Kavanagh in St. Ann's Church. The bride was attended by Miss Margaret Smith, of the church, and Miss Sadie Funston as bridesmaids. Miss Eleanor Donohue and Miss Catherine Kavanagh as flower girls. The ushers were Mr. Edward G. Goshing, Mr. Charles Sawyer and Mr. George Blinn. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Matthew Hand, rector of St. Ann's Church. A reception followed at the home of the bride.

The marriage of Miss Margaret B. Fox, of 899 Brookly street, and Mr. Andrew J. Kane took place Wednesday afternoon at the Church of the Holy Trinity, where Miss Fox was attended by her sister, Miss Mary J. Fox, and Mr. Elmer Smith was best man. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. William A. O'Donnell, and their return from a wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Kane will be at home at 5653 Ogden street, West Philadelphia.

JUNE WEDDINGS STILL TALKED OF IN JULY

Numerous Weddings of Month of Roses Still to Be Written Of

As every one who ever even contemplated matrimony seems to have carried out their desire, the wedding season is over, and the weddings take up most of the day's news.

A quiet wedding of interest Saturday night was that of Miss Margaret Newbold Castle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James M. Castle, 218 North Thirty-fourth street, and Mr. Charles H. Castle, of the New Jerusalem, Twenty-second and Chestnut streets.

The wedding of Miss Caroline Shoemaker, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Shoemaker, and Mr. C. Jackson Waters, of Baltimore, took place on Saturday at 4 o'clock at the home of the bride, 218 North Thirty-fourth street. Miss Priscilla Stockwell, of Merion, and the best man was Mr. Lawrence Sharples, of West Chester.

The marriage of Miss Laura Elizabeth Wittman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Wendell Wittman, of 28 North Fifthth street, and Mr. Charles Bradford Hubert, of Wilmington, Del., took place on Saturday at 4 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, The Rev. H. Hunter Crawford, pastor of the Episcopal Methodist Episcopal Church, performed the ceremony. The bride was attended by her two sisters, Miss F. Benetta Wittman and Miss Edith Wendell Wittman.

The marriage of Miss Marie Brown, daughter of Mrs. Jane M. Brown, of 1921 Master street, and Mr. Henry J. Trainor, of 1504 North Eighteenth street, which was solemnized at a nuptial mass in the Church of the Gesu, on Saturday morning, at 9 o'clock. The bride's brother, the Rev. M. A. Brown, officiated and was assisted by the Rev. John J. Brown, S. J., also a brother of the bride. Attending the bride was Mrs. John J. Tomlinson, matron of honor. Mr. Joseph A. Trainor was best man.

The wedding of Miss Elizabeth Goodnow Longshore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Longshore, of Woodbourne, Bucks County, Pa., and Mr. William A. O'Donnell, of Philadelphia, took place last Thursday afternoon. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Michael, former pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church, at her country home, and the Rev. Mr. Graves, of Langhorne.

The wedding of Miss Gertrude Donohue, a popular northeastern part of the city, and Mr. John Kavanagh in St. Ann's Church. The bride was attended by Miss Margaret Smith, of the church, and Miss Sadie Funston as bridesmaids. Miss Eleanor Donohue and Miss Catherine Kavanagh as flower girls. The ushers were Mr. Edward G. Goshing, Mr. Charles Sawyer and Mr. George Blinn. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Matthew Hand, rector of St. Ann's Church. A reception followed at the home of the bride.

The marriage of Miss Margaret B. Fox, of 899 Brookly street, and Mr. Andrew J. Kane took place Wednesday afternoon at the Church of the Holy Trinity, where Miss Fox was attended by her sister, Miss Mary J. Fox, and Mr. Elmer Smith was best man. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. William A. O'Donnell, and their return from a wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Kane will be at home at 5653 Ogden street, West Philadelphia.

The wedding of Miss Gertrude Donohue, a popular northeastern part of the city, and Mr. John Kavanagh in St. Ann's Church. The bride was attended by Miss Margaret Smith, of the church, and Miss Sadie Funston as bridesmaids. Miss Eleanor Donohue and Miss Catherine Kavanagh as flower girls. The ushers were Mr. Edward G. Goshing, Mr. Charles Sawyer and Mr. George Blinn. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Matthew Hand, rector of St. Ann's Church. A reception followed at the home of the bride.

The marriage of Miss Margaret B. Fox, of 899 Brookly street, and Mr. Andrew J. Kane took place Wednesday afternoon at the Church of the Holy Trinity, where Miss Fox was attended by her sister, Miss Mary J. Fox, and Mr. Elmer Smith was best man. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. William A. O'Donnell, and their return from a wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Kane will be at home at 5653 Ogden street, West Philadelphia.

ONE OF LIFE'S TRAGEDIES

Copyright, Life Publishing Company. Reprinted by special arrangement. "Another young fellow going to the dogs."

Copyright, Life Publishing Company. Reprinted by special arrangement. "Another young fellow going to the dogs."

THE DAY OF WRATH

A STORY OF 1914 By Louis Tracy

THE STORY THIS FAR CAPTAIN ARTHUR DALROY, of the British cavalry, is walking in the rain, his uniform dripping with water. He is looking back over his shoulder at the dark, stormy night.

CHAPTER VI—Continued MEANWHILE the unforgotten resistance offered to the invaders along the line of the Meuse and neighborhood of Liege was being the German military machine and its great guns.

CHAPTER VII The Woodman's Hut LARGELY empty, the hut was a fox. He had just arrived from Argenteau when he was to discover the dead Prussians, the neighborhood of Argenteau itself might be the last of the search for the "criminals" who had dared to enter the Meuse.

CHAPTER VIII The Woodman's Hut LARGELY empty, the hut was a fox. He had just arrived from Argenteau when he was to discover the dead Prussians, the neighborhood of Argenteau itself might be the last of the search for the "criminals" who had dared to enter the Meuse.

CHAPTER IX The Woodman's Hut LARGELY empty, the hut was a fox. He had just arrived from Argenteau when he was to discover the dead Prussians, the neighborhood of Argenteau itself might be the last of the search for the "criminals" who had dared to enter the Meuse.

CHAPTER X The Woodman's Hut LARGELY empty, the hut was a fox. He had just arrived from Argenteau when he was to discover the dead Prussians, the neighborhood of Argenteau itself might be the last of the search for the "criminals" who had dared to enter the Meuse.

CHAPTER XI The Woodman's Hut LARGELY empty, the hut was a fox. He had just arrived from Argenteau when he was to discover the dead Prussians, the neighborhood of Argenteau itself might be the last of the search for the "criminals" who had dared to enter the Meuse.

with a violence that seemed to rend the sky. Over an area of many miles to the west the sharp tapping of musketry and the staccato splutter of machine guns told of hundreds of thousands of men engaged in a fierce struggle for supremacy.

A definite quantity of blackness loomed above the low-lying shroud of mist which at night in stormy weather always marks the course of a great river.

"The wood," whispered Joss. "We are near the road now."

"Ah, that is the cavalry," said Joss. "It stands on a rock by the roadside."

"The little cabin held an abundant store of provisions, but the room beneath the trees was that of a vault. Even the miller's performance yielded place to Leonie's young eyes and sureness of foot.

CHAPTER XII The Little Cabin HELD an abundant store of provisions, but the room beneath the trees was that of a vault. Even the miller's performance yielded place to Leonie's young eyes and sureness of foot.

CHAPTER XIII The Little Cabin HELD an abundant store of provisions, but the room beneath the trees was that of a vault. Even the miller's performance yielded place to Leonie's young eyes and sureness of foot.

CHAPTER XIV The Little Cabin HELD an abundant store of provisions, but the room beneath the trees was that of a vault. Even the miller's performance yielded place to Leonie's young eyes and sureness of foot.

CHAPTER XV The Little Cabin HELD an abundant store of provisions, but the room beneath the trees was that of a vault. Even the miller's performance yielded place to Leonie's young eyes and sureness of foot.

CHAPTER XVI The Little Cabin HELD an abundant store of provisions, but the room beneath the trees was that of a vault. Even the miller's performance yielded place to Leonie's young eyes and sureness of foot.

NELLY'S ALLEY IN ALL PARTS OF PHILADELPHIA

Long Way From the City Hall When Complaints Are Made

Have You a Nelly's Alley in Your Neighborhood? HAVE you a Nelly's Alley in your neighborhood? A Nelly's Alley means a dirty street that the cleaner "forgot."

From City Hall, it's a long, long way to Nelly's alley, at Fourth and Winton streets, when complaints come about filthy streets and dead animals. But it's only about a ten-minute ride by automobile when the district engineer, Dudley T. Corning, wants to see a street.

GERMANTOWN GIRLS WILL GO TO CAMP Prepare to Ride From Germantown to Lake Arthur in the Poconos

The young girls in Germantown are all enthusiastic about Camp Onaka, on Lake Arthur, in the Poconos, which will open tomorrow.

Miss Rachel Keator, of 218 West Walnut lane, Germantown, has just returned from a motor trip to the Poconos, where she attended the commencement of the Philadelphia Protestant Federation meeting.

WHAT'S DOING TO NIGHT The Municipal Band plays at Clark Park, Forty-third street and Woodland avenue, Free.

HOUSE PETERS PALACE 1214 MARKET STREET 10:15 A. M. to 11:15 P. M.

ARCADIA CHESTNUT Below 10TH 10:15 A. M. to 11:15 P. M.

REGENT MARKET Below 17TH 11 A. M. to 11:15 P. M.

VICTORIA MARKET Below 2TH 9 A. M. to 11:15 P. M.